

Montessori: Quality and Sustainability

2009 AMI/USA Public School Forum

This year's AMI/USA public school forum invites representatives from public school districts across the country to discuss the implementation of Montessori education in public schools and districts. The annual conference will be held in Denver, Colorado from November 13-15, 2009.

The 2009 public school forum will focus on the sustainability offered by an AMI Montessori program. Participants will attend lectures and events that lead to a greater understanding of the manner in which an AMI program benefits their schools and their children. The standards endorsed by the Association Montessori International provide a blueprint for creating a program that supports the child in his or her achievements.

Philosophy Review: Montessori 101 with Ginni Sackett

$25.00, tickets available at the door, open to the public

For over 100 years, the science of Montessori education has provided the ideal setting for the study of the universal child. Universal characteristics of childhood continually reveal themselves – over cultures and over decades, throughout the world – wherever and whenever the favorable conditions of a Montessori prepared environment are replicated. In this philosophy review, we will explore these exciting discoveries and their profound implications for the lives of children, the adults who care for them, and the societies they create.

Ginni Sackett is an AMI trainer, lecturer, and examiner with over twenty years of experience in Montessori education. She holds a B.A. in history, an M.A. in Asian studies, and the AMI primary diploma. She conducts the AMI assistants' training course and parent education seminars on a regular basis. She is the director of training at the Montessori Institute Northwest in Portland, Oregon.
